Two summertime cruises aboard Boudicca to the fjords with a choice of departure points in Scotland or England.

Whichever cruise departure suits you, you'll travel to the quaint and peaceful settlement of Olden, at the head of Norway's Inner Nordfjord.

From here a journey to the cascading Briksdals glacier, best known of the gigantic Jostedal's many icy arms, is not to be missed. From the picturesque village of Flam, situated at the end of serene Aurlandsfjord, the mountain railway climbs 2,800 feet past the spectacular Kjosfossen Waterfall to Myrdal Station with fantastic views back across the fjord.

Dropping anchor at Gudvangen in the afternoon there's the opportunity to see the dramatic Stalheim Gorge and the impressive Stalheimsfossen waterfall.

Revelling in its setting amongst seven hills, Bergen was voted European City of Culture in 2000. Most visitors head to see the exhibits at the Bryggen Museum situated on the waterfront. Visitors also flock to the city's Gamle Radhuset district to see the attractive medieval houses lining the cobbled streets full of colonnaded shops and lively cafes. Stroll around the Fisktorget, with its incredible displays of fresh fish, where you could try the freshly boiled shrimps and eat them beside the waterfront, just like the locals.

Alternatively, visit the Troldhaugen home of composer Edvard Grieg and his wife Nina. About 8km south of Bergen the Swiss style house, now a museum, was built in 1884/85 on a promontary jutting out into Lake Nordass and enjoys an outstanding view over the water.
